Arts Center of Saint Peter
2017 ANNUAL REPORT

Work to be fired. Clay Studio potters kept the kilns busy in 2017 with work for sale at regional artisan fairs, Souper Bowls for our annual fundraiser, and commissions for local businesses, and organizations seeking custom pottery.
These activities are made possible by the voters of Minnesota through a Minnesota State Arts Board Community Arts Education Support grant, a Prairie Lakes Regional Arts Council Grant, and an allocation from KMSU Radio thanks to a legislative appropriation from the Arts and Cultural Heritage Fund.

Docents and event volunteers gave us more than 1,600 hours of their time in 2017. From greeting guests to throwing Souper Bowls, from cashiering to sweeping to setting up and tearing down chairs and tents and more – they made all the difference in a remarkable year. Thank you, volunteers!
From the President

“I’m not an artist.” Four years ago, before I started volunteering for the Arts Center, I would have said that about myself. I’ve learned since then that we all have our medium, and when we approach our work with vision and a love of the process, we are indeed artists.

My medium is organizational leadership. And as President of this board, I am fortunate to have an amazing array of tools and materials: A strong staff, a loyal and enthusiastic volunteer force, and an expanding pool of visual and performing artists. We’re also fortunate to have a facility in the heart of downtown, year-round special events that serve as community gatherings as much as fundraisers, and a family of allied professionals — Ameriprise Financial Services, SMZ Accounting, Hahn Accounting, Nicollet County Bank, Pell Insurance and others — rooted in our community and committed to the Arts Center’s health and success. And, most important, we have you, our members and supporters.

Many visual artists will tell you that the best work happens when they get out of the way and let the materials speak for themselves. The same applies to board leadership, when an organization is strong and vibrant. It’s an honor to lead by letting our “materials” — all of you — create joyous, intriguing, inspiring experiences in our gallery, clay studio, community studio, and performance space, not to mention out in the community.

I am proud to practice the art of organizational leadership in such a receptive environment, with such passionate collaborators. Thank you, fellow artists and supporters and friends, for being a part of our work in 2017. And thank you for making today’s Arts Center a living source of inspiration we can call our own.

From the Executive Director

Of all our programs and events — year-round classes and private instruction, live music, book launches, table readings, our annual lefse sale at a festive Holiday Fare, our annual Souper Bowl, the world’s first-ever Jesus Christ Superstar Pageant & Singalong — I’ve come to favor the days between exhibitions as much as the weeks spent with new work on our gallery walls.

Two reasons. First, to view fresh, clean, empty walls once a month is to experience a real-time walk-in pause, a sensory meditation. On those days, our galleries look and feel like potential, or a fresh start — and that can be as inspiring as an exhibition. Second, to watch our volunteer Gallery Committee install a show is to witness our Arts Center’s soul in motion. Joel Moline, Pam Bidelman, Randy Harmes, Joel Jackson, David Olson, and Charlie Putnam — with assists from Juana Arias and LeAnn Gehring-Ryan — don’t talk much during installation, because they don’t have to. They know what each person does well, and they trust each other to do their part. When they do talk, they’re either negotiating details to accomplish a greater good (which, this group has taught me, is the pretty much the basic definition of art-making), or they’re deciding who should run to River Rock Coffee for sustenance — which speaks to hospitality, friendship, self-care, community, and all-around great taste.

Our Gallery Committee is probably too seasoned to believe anything they hang or install here on the main drag in a town of 12,000 is going to change the world. But I can tell you that their modus operandi, with its equal parts trust and reverence and risk and levity and passion, is a joyful and incredibly functional thing to behold. They’ve certainly changed my world, for the better. They have my admiration and gratitude. And the rest of you have my invitation and encouragement to stop by during those transition days, usually the last or first week of the month, and see what your Arts Center’s heart and soul look like, in motion.

PARTNERSHIPS

East Henderson Farms
Through the East Henderson Farms Community Supported Agriculture program, we offered a “starving artist option” in which Arts Center member-artists exchanged artwork for produce with CSA clients who elected to receive art in lieu of one share.

Harry Meyering Center
Clay Studio Manager Juana Arias provided private group instruction for Harry Meyering Center clients on a monthly basis, resulting in creative and social skill-building, as well as finished pieces of functional pottery.

Minnesota Security Hospital
In partnership with the Minnesota Security Hospital, we offered painting, drawing, creative writing and songwriting classes in preparation for Changing Minds II: Work by Patients at St. Peter Regional Treatment Center. We also curated MSH’s new Summit Center, now displaying paintings by Arts Center member-artists.

Nicollet County Community Work Service Program & Saint Peter Volunteers in the Park Program
In partnership with Nicollet County, the Arts Center was a work site for youth assigned to community service. And in partnership with the City of Saint Peter, the Arts Center was a site for youth selected for the summer VIP program. Participants were encouraged to view the exhibitions on display and talk about their interest in the arts.

Nicollet County Historical Society
The Arts Center partnered with NCHS for Kidtoberfest, free activities at St. Peter’s Oktoberfest, and for our annual art sale, Holiday Fare, at the Treaty Site History Center — drawing more than 600 buyers of fresh lefse, baked goods, and work by 25 regional artisans.

Third Floor Youth Center
Throughout the school year, the Arts Center hosted free art activities at South Elementary School’s Third Floor Program, primarily using materials donated to the Arts Center. Made possible by funding from the Thalia & Larry Taylor Arts Scholarship Fund.

Morgan Creek Vineyards & Patrick’s on Third
Morgan Creek Vineyards and Patrick’s on Third provide catering services at all Arts Center performances, creating a festive and welcoming environment for new and longtime patrons.

Make art with us!
Host a party, commission a portrait, pursue a passion.

We do portraits. The Arts Center will happily organize speed-sketchers to attend your event, to sketch as many models as they can for up to two hours. Models may keep the portraits. Speed sketching fee: $100/hour, materials included.

We do parties. Parties in the Clay Studio include 90-120 minutes of studio time with an instructor who will guide participants through basic throwing techniques, resulting in 1-2 pieces of pottery per participant. Pieces will be ready for pickup by the host or assigned representative within a month of the event. Flat fee: $100 (covers up to five participants (ages 8+) and all materials). Additional participants, up to a maximum of 10: $15/person.

We do retreats. Customized business and organizational retreats may include:
- A guided tour of the current exhibition.
- 90-120 minutes of Clay Studio time with an instructor
- Up to two hours of meeting time in our lower gallery studio, with access to coffee, tea, and myriad art supplies
- Organic meals catered by neighboring River Rock Coffee
Retreat costs begin at $135 for five participants, not including catering. Additional participants, up to a maximum of 10: $15/person.

We'll come to you. Arts Center Executive Director Ann Rosenquist Fee and member-artists are available for on-site arts activities at meetings, retreats and office parties. None of our projects require artistic skill or a specific outcome. Instead, we like to focus on the pleasure of the creative process without worrying about the end result. That's what makes our activities a refreshing break from work-as-usual! Coloring, collage, black-out poetry and more. On-site activity fee: $35/hour, materials included.

We sell art. Original artwork is always for sale at the Arts Center, thanks to year-round exhibitions by regional and national artists. Artists keep 70% of the proceeds; 30% benefits the Arts Center. We also welcome requests to find artwork and artists to meet specific needs. Got an office to decorate? Interested in custom pottery? Give us a call!

To inquire about a private arts event or purchase, contact
